

LEADERSHIP

HELPING OTHERS TO SUCCEED

Do you desire to be a leader? Whether or not you have that conscious desire, you are a leader. You are a leader if you are a parent. You are a leader if you work with others in any capacity. We all have influence on those around us.

Whether you desire to increase your ability to lead in a business setting or you want to be an effective leader at home or in your social circles, Leadership: Helping Others to Succeed will help you achieve your objective.

The authors within the covers of this book have all been chosen because of their unique ability to lead others toward excellence and success. You will find answers to intriguing questions including:

- What is "mind work" and how is it connected to success?
- What are the most significant skill sets that you think a leader must apply to influence the success of others?
- What is self-directedness and how does it lead the way to success?

Leadership: Helping Others to Succeed presents new ideas and ambitious ways to approach the challenge of being an example and leading others in the right direction. This book is a valuable investment in your future and in the future of those you lead. Now is the best time to take advantage of the continuing education you need to be an effective leader. Put these ideas to work and see for yourself!
